Subject: Ogden Point Weather Station

Dear Dave,

The GVHA weather station at Ogden Point experienced both hardware and software failure on July 28. We understand this service is used by many organizations and individuals in the community. We appreciate your patience while we implement an effective long-term solution to provide Ogden Point weather data free of charge to users.

We are currently assessing replacement options for the damaged weather station equipment and software in order to provide the best possible service. The weather station was installed in 2004 to deliver online streaming data on wind speed and direction, temperature and humidity from the breakwater lighthouse.

Please forward any feedback or concerns to gvha@victoriaharbour.org or at 250-383-8300 ext.239

Warm Regards,

Rebecca Penz, Manager, Stakeholder Engagement & First Nations Initiatives
